

Medical Laboratory Science - Grade System

The performance of individual student in the course is generally classified into the grades, which are approved by the Board of Examiners of HKU SPACE. The decisions of which are final. The grades are listed as follows:

Grades	Marks	Overall Rating	Definition
A	86-100	Excellent	Work that: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>- demonstrates a superior understanding of the subject matter,</li><li>- is able to develop in-depth solutions to related problems,</li><li>- with evidence of an extensive knowledge base, original thinking, the capacity to make critical evaluations, and</li><li>- is well organized and presented</li></ul>
B	71-85	Very Good	Work that: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>- demonstrates a good understanding of the subject matter,</li><li>- is able to develop solutions to related problems,</li><li>- with evidence of critical capacity and accuracy, analytical ability, a reasonable understanding of issues, and</li><li>- is clearly organized and presented</li></ul>
C	61-70	Good	Work that: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>- demonstrates a sufficient understanding of the subject matter,</li><li>- is able to develop rudimentary solutions to related problems,</li><li>- with evidence of some attempts at analytical thinking, and</li><li>- is in average presentation and accuracy</li></ul>
D	50-60	Average	Work that: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>- demonstrates a basic familiarity with the subject matter, and</li><li>- with evidence of marginal accuracy, acceptable presentation and organisation</li></ul>
U	<50	Unclassified	Work shows little evidence of familiarity with the subject matter, with poor accuracy, presentation and/or organisation

Statement of Achievement

A notification of assessment results will be issued to the individual student by the Education Bureau in the interim. No result is released by telephone or email.

Students who successfully completed the course and attained the results of "Attained", "Attained with Distinction (I)" or "Attained with Distinction (II)" in the HKDSE Examination will be awarded a Certificate issued by HKU SPACE.